

SEE US! HEAR US!

Welcome to our 2017 concert season! Trianon enjoys bringing a variety of music to audiences and performing at venues around Suffolk. This year our January and September concerts are at the Ipswich Corn Exchange and in April we return to St John's Church in Ipswich, one of our favourite venues.

Trianon's concerts in local communities feature smaller groups of instrumentalists and singers. These concerts raise money for local charities or projects and this year our members visit Sproughton, Felixstowe, Charsfield and Needham Market. We'd love to see you there!

TRIANON AT ST JOHN'S

Conducted by Adrian Brown
Sponsored by the Friends of Trianon

Hubert Parry is HRH Prince Charles' favourite composer and best known for Jerusalem and the stirring opening of Blest Pair of Sirens evokes the essence of Parry's "Englishness". This is a programme of contrasts with Mendelssohn's final major symphony programmed to mark the 500th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation started by Martin Luther in 1517.

Puccini's Messa di Gloria is a rare venture by the Italian into church music and there are many hints of the operatic featured in the work.

Hubert Parry	Blest Pair Of Sirens
Mendelssohn	Symphony No 5 In D, Op107 (Reformation)
Puccini	Messa Di Gloria

JOIN US!

Trianon welcomes singers of all abilities and instrumentalists with minimum Grade V standard. We are unique in East Anglia in having both a choir and a symphony orchestra and our members tell us that the experience of performing as part of such a large group is second to none!

We perform a wide range of music from classical to popular music from shows and work in partnership with local organisations and schools. There are opportunities to perform and socialise with our partner music groups in Europe as well. Interested? Then talk to us about joining our choir and orchestra or become a Friend of Trianon.
